American Poets
Annual Report
FY2023
(July 1, 2022 to June 30, 2023)

2023

“Poetry is form, and form is its salvation. Form is what the world is— a concept, brought into materiality. Our bodies are forms. The places where we live. The construction of a root system, or a worm.”

—Diane Seuss

Supporting Poetry Programming and Publications

The Academy of American Poets was founded in New York State in 1934 as the first national organization dedicated to fostering the production of American poetry and supporting poets at all stages of their careers. Over the decades, our programs and publications have expanded to serve millions of readers nationwide, inspiring positive personal and civic progress through poetry across local, national, and global communities.

In FY2023, the Academy continued to support poetry organizations, serving community stakeholders from all backgrounds. With funding from Hawthornden Foundation, we provided $460,000 in capacity-building grants to 53 poetry nonprofits, such as 826 National, the largest youth-writing network in the country, and Public Poetry, which showcases the enduring power of poetry in Houston and beyond. Helping to recommend grant recipients were Kazim Ali, M. L. Smoker, and Crystal Wilkinson.

In alliance with the Amazon Literary Partnership, the Academy provided $130,000 to 17 poetry nonprofits as the administrator of the Poetry Fund, which uplifts and amplifies the voices of overlooked writers. Recipients included In-Na-Po (Indigenous Nations Poets), a national, Indigenous poetry community committed to mentoring emerging writers, and Undocupoets, which promotes the work of poets who are or were undocumented immigrants in the United States. Members of the grantmaking panel were Tina Cane, Anthony Cody, and Nicole Terez Dutton.

Poets.org

With more than 52 million page views, Poets.org, the largest publicly supported poetry website in the United States, continued to be an important resource to poets and readers. In addition to publishing more than 1,000 poems in FY2023, we added hundreds of audio clips of poets reading their work, along with hundreds of new biographies and 38 original K-12 lesson plans produced by our experienced education team. We also added interviews with poets who received the Academy’s Poet Laureate Fellowships, including Crystal Wilkinson, 2022 poet laureate of Kentucky, who offered that “Poetry can [...] illuminate the dark spaces, the spaces where things make us uncomfortable, but it can also illuminate the basic foundations—joy, pain, fear, and hope—these deeper emotions that make us most human.” She continued:

Poetry is food for the heart and soul. When it’s present at the table, it better enables us to fully experience something outside ourselves, while simultaneously learning more deeply about who we are or who we want to be—individually and collectively.

Additionally, the Academy’s YouTube channel, which features poets reading their work, a recording of our annual Blaney Lecture, and discussions about poetry by today’s leading poets, garnered 182,213 views, amounting to more than 13,000 hours of video watched.

Poem-a-Day

The Academy remains one of the most prolific publishers of contemporary poetry today, thanks to our Poem-a-Day series, which publishes 260 new poems by today’s poets each year, with an audience of nearly 332,000 subscribers—a 3.4% increase over the previous year. The Poets.org homepage, which prominently features our Poem-a-Day series, was visited 1,338,000 times, and the series’ landing page was visited nearly 362,000 times. The podcast, which features the audio of poets reading their poems and “about this poem” statements, as well as monthly introductions by each Guest Editor, had 935,314 downloads—up from 930,935 downloads the previous year.

To curate the series in 2023, we worked with leading poets who reflect a wide spectrum of styles and perspectives. The following poets served as Guest Editors: Steve Bellin-Oka, John Lee Clark, Tyree Daye, Eunsong Kim, Ada Limón, Hieu Minh Nguyen, former Chancellor Claudia Rankine, Diane Seuss, Chancellor Patricia Smith, Brian Teare, Divya Victor, and Vanessa Angélica Villarreal.

Poem-a-Day was also the number one source of selected work for the 2022 edition of Best American Poetry (Simon & Schuster), making this the third time the program has been the top source of poems for the anthology.

National Poetry Month

As the founder of National Poetry Month, we produced and featured a wealth of resources for readers of all backgrounds on Poets.org: we facilitated a special month of Poem-a-Day curated by Poet Laureate Ada Limón; promoted Poem In Your Pocket Day; organized Dear Poet, a multimedia education project that invites young people in grades five through twelve to write letters in response to poems written and read by Chancellor Marilyn Chin, former Chancellor Naomi Shihab Nye, Danez Smith, and others; and distributed more than 85,000 copies of the official National Poetry Month poster to classrooms, libraries, and bookstores nationwide in partnership with the American Booksellers Association (ABA), the American Library Association (ALA), and the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) to classrooms, libraries, and bookstores nationwide. Produced in collaboration with Scholastic, the poster featured a line from the poem “Carrying” by Ada Limón and artwork by Marc Brown, creator of the Arthur book and the eponymous PBS television series.

On April 26, 2023, we presented the twentieth annual Poetry & the Creative Mind gala virtually, making it available at no cost to poetry readers and lovers of poetry everywhere. The program included readings of favorite poems by Chancellor Kimiko Hahn, Ethan Hawke, Daniel Dae Kim, Liam Neeson, Molly Shannon, Malala Yousafzai, and other luminaries from across the arts and culture.

Education Program

To aid teachers, we produced 38 lesson plans in our free weekly series, Teach This Poem (TTP), which is overseen by our Educator in Residence Dr. Madeleine Holzer and includes a timely poem and classroom activities prepared by Ansley Moon, our Curriculum Consultant. As of June 2023, we shared resources with 39,590 subscribers. We also engaged young readers with the Dear Poet project, a signature series of the Academy’s National Poetry Month celebrations. Nearly 1,100 students from 20 states participated.

All of our educational resources were championed throughout the year by the Academy’s Education Ambassador Richard Blanco and guided with input from the Education Advisory Council.

Online Poetry Readings, Conversations & Lecture

Events were attended by more than 15,000 individuals and featured the annual Blaney Lecture on contemporary poetics by Chancellor Patricia Smith, whose “The Scrawny Little Black Girl with the Hasty Pigtailed Sounds Out ‘Anemone,’” explored poetry’s engagement with visual images, national and personal history, and memory. The lecture was created in memory of former Academy Board member Dr. Dorothy Gulbenkian Blaney, past president of Cedar Crest College and a champion of women and education, by a gift from her estate.

Additional events included:

New Works: A poetry reading at the Brooklyn Book Festival with Omotara James, Solmaz Sharif, Ryann Stevenson, and Jeffrey Yang, introduced by Academy Advertising & Marketing Director Michelle Campagna.

WeHo Reads: Poets Laureate Across America, a virtual reading and conversation hosted by West Hollywood City Poet Laureate Brian Sonia-Wallace and featuring the 2020 Poet Laureate Fellows: Semaj Brown, Poet Laureate of Flint, MI; Magdalena Gómez, Poet Laureate of Springfield, MA; Chasity Gunn, Poet Laureate of Elgin, IL; Luisa Igloria, Poet Laureate of Virginia; Georgina Marie, Poet Laureate of Lake County, CA; and Lloyd Schwartz, Poet Laureate of Somerville, MA

The Academy of American Poets at the biennial Geraldine R. Dodge Poetry Festival: Chancellors Marilyn Chin and Kwame Dawes and former Chancellors Terrance Hayes and Yusef Komunyakaa joined Willie Perdomo, Patrick Rosal, and others for a reading in Newark, New Jersey. Poets led conversations on environmental justice, poetry and storytelling, and the uses of metaphor as a tool for communicating experience. The Dodge Poetry Festival, the largest poetry event in North America, took place both in person and online.

World in Verse, a virtual reading of poems and translations in Arabic, English, French, Malay, and Spanish, featuring former Chancellor Marilyn Hacker, Pauline Fan, Zahid M. Naser, Samira Negrouche, and others, held in partnership with Words Without Borders.

Gather in Poems, an online reading featuring former Chancellor Juan Felipe Herrera, Taylor Johnson, former Chancellor Marilyn Nelson, TC Tolbert, and others, reading poems for the community.

Fifth Avenue Blooms, a celebration of spring along New York City's iconic Fifth Avenue, featuring readings by Brooklyn Poet Laureate Tina Chang, Cornelius Eady, Shenelle Gabriel, and Joseph O. Legaspi, presented with Van Cleef & Arpels and Fifth Avenue.

Honoring & Supporting Poets

Through our prizes, we continue to celebrate the lasting contributions that poets make to poetry and our communities, while giving winners access to a wider readership throughout the nation and the world. In FY2023, the Academy remained the largest financial supporter of poets globally through its many prizes, awards, and fellowships.

The Academy of American Poets Laureate Fellowships, launched with support from the Mellon Foundation, awarded more than $1,000,000 to 23 poets this fiscal year in recognition of their literary excellence and to help support their civic projects. The 2023 Fellows and the

The Academy of American Poets Prizes, a suite of endowed awards, provided more than $200,000 to talented poets at all stages of their careers:

Former Chancellor Marilyn Nelson received the Wallace Stevens Award, which is given annually to recognize outstanding and proven mastery in the art of poetry. Established in 1994, the award carries a stipend of $100,000. Recipients are nominated and elected by a majority vote of the Academy's Board of Chancellors.

Jericho Brown received the Academy Fellowship. Established in 1936 and awarded in memory of James Ingram Merrill, with generous support from the T. S. Eliot Foundation, this prize recognizes distinguished poetic achievement and carries both a stipend of $25,000 and a residency at Eliot’s summer home in Gloucester, MA. Fellows are nominated and elected by a majority vote of the Academy’s Board of Chancellors.

Mai Der Vang’s Yellow Rain (Graywolf Press, 2021) received the Lenore Marshall Poetry Prize. Awarded by the Academy since 1994, this $25,000 prize recognizes the most outstanding book of poetry published in the United States in the previous year. The prize includes a ten-day residency at Glen Hollow in Naples, NY, and distribution of the winning book to hundreds of Academy members. The judges were Sawako Nakayasu, Matthew Shenoda, and Danez Smith.

Annelise Gelman’s Vexations (University of Chicago Press, 2023) won the James Laughlin Award, given to recognize and support a second book of poetry forthcoming in the next calendar year. Offered since 1954 and endowed in 1995 by the Drue Heinz Trust, the annual award is named for the poet and publisher James Laughlin, founder of New Directions Publishing. The winning poet receives a cash prize of $5,000 and a one-week residency at the Betsy Hotel in Miami. The Academy also distributes copies of the book to thousands of its members. The judges were Aracelis Girmay and Solmaz Sharif.

Elizabeth Torres’s La Lotería: Sorteo Nocturno / The Lottery: Nocturnal Sweepstakes won the Ambrogio Prize, a $1,000 publication prize established in 2017 and given for a book-length poetry manuscript originally written in Spanish and with an English translation. The winning manuscript is published by The University of Arizona Press, a nationally recognized publisher of award-winning works from emerging and established voices in Latinx and Indigenous literature, as well as groundbreaking scholarship in Latinx and Indigenous studies. The judge was Raina J. León.

Adriana X. Jacobs’s translation of Vaan Nguyen’s The Truffle Eye (Zephyr Press, 2021) won the Harold Morton Landon Translation Award. Founded in 1976, this $1,000 prize recognizes a published translation of poetry from any language into English that demonstrates literary excellence. The judge was David Shook.

Danielle Emerson won the Aliki Perroti and Seth Frank Most Promising Young Poet Award for her poem “shíma yazhí ahéhee’ / thank you, auntie.” Established in 2013, the award recognizes a student poet with a cash prize of $1,000. The prize is open to winners, who are 23 years old or younger, of the current year’s University & College Poetry Prizes, also bestowed by the Academy. The judge was Chancellor David St. John.

We also celebrated the more than 200 talented student poets who won our University & College Poetry Prizes. Many of the prizes are named for the generous donors who have endowed them.

The Academy of American Poets First Book Award

The Academy of American Poets’ First Book Award was established in 1975 to encourage the work of emerging poets. Award-winning poet Eduardo C. Corral selected Sara Daniele Rivera’s manuscript “The Blue Mimes” as the 2023 recipient of the nation’s most valuable first-book prize for a poet. Rivera’s first collection of poems was published by Graywolf Press in April 2024.

In addition to publication, Rivera will receive a six-week, all-expenses-paid residency at the Civitella Ranieri Center in Umbria, Italy, as well as $5,000. The Academy of American Poets will purchase and send thousands of copies of the book to its members, making it one of the most widely distributed poetry books of the year.

Treehouse Climate Action Poem Prize

This annual prize was launched in 2019 with generous support from Treehouse Investments LLC, a social impact firm, and is given to honor exceptional poems that help readers recognize the gravity of the vulnerable state of our environment. Selected by poet Matthew Olzmann and climate scientist and author Dr. Peter Kalmus, the 2023 winning poems were:

First place: “Lullaby” by John James, published in Poem-a-Day on Earth Day, April 22, 2023

Second place: “Playing with Bees” by RK Fauth, published in Poem-a-Day on April 29, 2023

Third place: “Though from Here I Can’t Smell the Smoke” by Allison Hutchcraft, published in Poem-a-Day on May 6, 2023

First place received $1,000; second place, $750; and third place, $500.

Guggenheim Museum Poet-in-Residence

In the fall of 2022, the Academy and the Guggenheim Museum co-presented a suite of events curated by Taylor Johnson, the inaugural Guggenheim Poet-in-Residence. In January 2023, we renewed this yearlong position, open to a contemporary poet with a strong interest in public engagement. Poetry has long been presented and celebrated at the Guggenheim, beginning with the Academy staging poetry readings in the Peter B. Lewis Theater in 1963. The 2023 Guggenheim Poet-in-Residence was Ama Codjoe.

In her new role, Codjoe structured a series of happenings, readings, and interventions around the theme “I Feel Therefore I Can Be Free,” a quote from Audre Lorde’s 1977 essay “Poetry Is Not a Luxury.” The series explored how sensuality, caesura, and care are integral materials of written, visual, and time-based arts.

The selection panelists were Jen Bervin, award-winning poet and visual artist; Terrance Hayes, former Academy Chancellor and National Book Award-winning poet; Tyehimba Jess, Pulitzer Prize-winning poet; Nikay Paredes, Programs Director at the Academy; and Alan Seise, Manager of Public Programs at the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum.

Poetry Coalition

We continued in our role as the administrative lead of the Poetry Coalition, a national alliance of more than 25 poetry organizations working together to promote the value poets bring to our culture and the important contribution poetry makes in the lives of people of all ages and backgrounds. To support this work, the Academy received a $1,000,000 grant from the Mellon Foundation.

The coalition selected the theme “and so much lost you’d think / beauty had left a lesson: Poetry & Grief” for a series of in-person and virtual programs that reflected the transformative impact poetry has on individual readers and communities and reached an estimated audience of more than 200,000 individuals nationwide.

We were pleased also to administer the Poetry Coalition Fellowship program, through which five member organizations will host a fellow, providing them with opportunities to learn about literary arts programming and administration. To support this work, the Academy received a $1,000,000 grant from the Mellon Foundation.

Chancellors

The Academy announced the elections of Kimiko Hahn, Ilya Kaminsky, Ed Roberson, and Patricia Smith as its newest Chancellors, a distinction shared by 125 poets since 1946, when the Board of Chancellors was formed to ensure that poets would always be at the heart of the organization.

Chancellors, distinguished poets who are among the leading poetic voices of their day, serve an active six-year term during which they consult with the organization on artistic matters, judge the organization's largest legacy prizes for poets, participate in our education projects, and act as ambassadors of poetry in the world at large. Hahn, Kaminsky, Roberson, and Smith were selected by the 2022 Board of Chancellors: Ellen Bass, Marilyn Chin, Kwame Dawes, Natalie Diaz, Nikky Finney, Carolyn Forché, Forrest Gander, Joy Harjo, Terrance Hayes, Marie Howe, Dorianne Laux, David St. John, Tracy K. Smith, Natasha Trethewey, and Kevin Young.

Board of Directors

In FY2023, the Academy of American Poets bid farewell to President and Executive Director Jennifer Benka. During her decade-long tenure, she tripled the organization's budget, launched new prizes, created and helped encourage new programs supporting poets of color, raised and awarded millions to fund poets' community projects and smaller poetry organizations, and helped lead emergency relief funds during the pandemic. The Academy's Board of Directors is grateful to Ms. Benka for her transformational leadership.

After a national search, the Board of Directors announced the appointment of Ricardo Alberto Maldonado as President and Executive Director and the first Latino to lead the Academy since its founding. The Board recognized Maldonado's passion for the mission, nonprofit leadership experience, project management skills, commitment to education and community-building, and broad knowledge about American poetry. Maldonado served as codirector of the 92NY's Unterberg Poetry Center in New York City before his appointment to the Academy in June of 2023.

University & College Poetry Prize 2022 Recipients

Established in 1955, the Academy of American Poets' University and College Poetry Prize program began with 10 schools. Today, we sponsor more than 200 annual poetry prizes at colleges and universities across the United States, and we have awarded cash prizes to nearly 10,000 student poets since the program's inception. Many of our most esteemed poets won their first recognition through our University and College Poetry Prizes program, including Toi Derricotte, Natalie Diaz, Mark Doty, Louise Glück, Jorie Graham, Kimiko Hahn, Joy Harjo, Robert Hass, Li-Young Lee, Sylvia Plath, Mark Strand, Ocean Vuong, and Charles Wright. We are pleased to announce the winners of our 2022 University and College Poetry Prizes. Each of these winning student poets receives a cash prize, a free yearlong membership to the Academy of American Poets, a subscription to American Poets magazine, and publication of their winning poem on Poets.org. In addition, University and College Poetry Prize recipients 23 years old or younger are eligible for the Aliki Perroti and Seth Frank Most Promising Young Poet Award.
